

Harlan Case Jury Fails To Agree

Eleven-Weeks Trial Is Ended

Jurors Are Dismissed And Plans Are Made For Retrial Soon

ONE OF LONGEST TRIALS ON RECORD

LONDON, Ky., Aug. 2.—The eleven-week trial of the defendant in the "Bloody Harlan" coal conspiracy case, the government intends to seek a shutdown on the legality of criminal prosecution for violation of the Wagner labor act, it was announced here today.

Prosecutor J. H. Campbell had dismissed the jury without comment and set September 17 at last session to hear the government's motion to set aside the verdict.

Stood 7-5 For Acquittal.

The 15 defendant companies and 36 individuals were placed under an 1875 federal statute that makes it a criminal offense to hold a citizen rights guaranteed by the constitution of federal law.

In this instance it was charged the accused coal companies, their officials and hired deputies had deprived miners of the right to own a union as assured in the labor relations law.

In polling the jury, it was learned that they stood 7 to 5 for acquittal.

One of the longest and most expensive court cases on record, the investigation and trial were reported to have cost the government close to $400,000 and the defense another $200,000. Hundreds of witnesses were used by both sides.

Four violent deaths, an alleged kidnapping and a dynamiting, marked the course of the trial that was mainly concerned with the long and bloody union war in the bituminous coal fields.

that the station would have some from Harlanburg by evening. At 2 o'clock he jumped into his automobile and drove toward the state capital. There was a good tail wind, and in exactly one hour and fifteen minutes he landed on the Harlanburg. An old woman, Mrs. S. K. Hines, who lives on the corner of the street where he was back at his service station, with the sun still high in the heavens.

It was hard to be killed to sleep these warm evenings by the melody of insects that start up their concert as twilight fades into night. Probably none but a naturalist can distinguish and name the different insects, but there appears to be one over which there is a sharp disagreement. Some say it is a tree frog, and others that it is a katydid. You have to look at it and listen to the dominant instrument in the orchestra. The tree frog advocates claim the katydid don't begin to play much later in the season. How about it?

And speaking of mosquitoes, a camper informs Pa News that they have some really big ones along the Sipperry Rock creek. To bear out his assertion he says that the other evening he heard a roaring sound down along the water's edge. It sounded like some one firing a saw, but he felt sure that there wasn't anybody in the neighborhood who had a saw, so being curious as to what was making the noise he started to investigate. Slipping up behind a big oak tree he peered around the edge, and this is what he saw: A huge mosquito chomping its bill on a rock. Yes, they have some big mosquitoes out on the Sipperry Rock, or else candidates for the ananias club.

There seems to be a growing sentiment toward compulsory automobile insurance. It is said that only about one-fourth of the cars on the road today are insured. Chances are that if your car is struck, it will be by some one who does not carry insurance, and is financially unable to make good your loss. Motorists in this state seem to be strong for a law that will require everybody to carry insurance. There is some division of opinion as to whether it should be public or private insurance, but there is general agreement that every car owner should be required to carry some kind.

Pe News was talking to a county court-keeper the other day and asked him about business. "Well," he said, "business in the county isn't what it used to be before the days of automobiles. When I started in business, there were practically no automobiles in the county and I got the trade from all the surrounding country. It was too far to go to New Castle for most of the merchandise desired. It's a lot different now. People think nothing of pumping into their cars and going to town. In many cases our merchandise is as cheap or cheaper than it can be bought in the city, but there are a lot of people who like to ride."

At the Lawrence County Workers Picnic in Cascade Park, Saturday, two ladies found the "mystery man" at the same time and so both were awarded prizes. The "mystery man" whose description was published beforehand in The News, proved to be none other than Chris Goldhard, superintendent of Cascade Park.

There is a dog-hating cat on Long avenue, near the corner of South Main street. We have been told by residents in the vicinity that the dog goes on the sidewalk, where she is sitting in a doorway, and she will strike on their heads and pounce on it, sinking her claws into the dog's face and head and mauling him with her teeth. The terrified dog scampers to break neck speed to some place of refuge. A week ago we saw this happen, and a young man came out of a barber shop and chased the cat, saying, "The dog, looking on this young dog." So, at least, we saw a good sized cat-hater dog, evidently looking for his master, going up the sidewalk.

AWAITING NEXT MOVE IN PROBE BY LEGISLATURE

same time Judge Schaeffer impounded all grand jury evidence. Attorney General C. E. Bard, when questioned, said: "I presume the house will go ahead with its plans to set up a committee, name its counsel, and issue subpoenas for witnesses. Then we'll see what happens."

Inking Of Developments

An inking of what may transpire then was seen in Bard's added statement that "I don't see where Schaeffer or any judge finds the authority to tell Shelley or Margiotti they should not appear and testify before a legislative committee."

Dauphin County District Attorney Carl R. Shelley, a Republican, has for three months fought successfully to keep secret evidence in his possession which he claims links Governor Earle and high Democratic associates in the state government and Democratic party in a vast "system of crime." The evidence is based primarily on information furnished by former attorney general Charles J. Margiotti, who was summarily dismissed by Governor Earle when he refused to make it public during last spring's heated Democratic primary campaign.

Should the legislative investigating committee go ahead with its previously announced plans, it would after appointing counsel, issue subpoenas for Shelley and Margiotti, ordering them to bring their evidence with them and to testify.

Could Be Held In Contempt

Under the authority vested in the committee by the legislature, Shelley and Margiotti can be held in contempt and be committed by the order of the house to a state penitentiary should they balk at the legislature's mandate.

Thus, the judiciary in the person of Judge Schaeffer, and the legislature would be locked in a judicial-legislative struggle unprecedented in the state's history.

Administration leaders during passage of the bills which outlawed the grand jury investigation indicated the general assembly was prepared to take firm action should Shelley and Margiotti refuse to comply with the investigating committee's orders.

Shelley, however, after Judge Schaeffer handed down his order forbidding the district attorney and Margiotti from revealing their evidence to the house committee, commented significantly: "It's out of my hands now." It was expected both he and Margiotti would stand on Judge Schaeffer's order in refusing to comply with the investigating committee's forthcoming demands for information.

At length Judge Schaeffer, after handing down his order, said he was prepared to hear further argument on the matter, the oral argument accompanying his order and he gave much room for belief he was prepared to change his views.

Did Not Rule On Constitutionality

"I am clearly of the opinion," he said, "that it is without the province of the legislature or any other branch of the government to compel a disclosure of business secrets in the possession of a citizen engaged to be played before a grand jury."

Judge Schaeffer did not rule upon the constitutionality of the new laws, although he left little doubt he considered them lawful. He gave no indication either whether he would order the grand jury probe to continue despite the legislative ban.

The grand jury is to convene next Monday and Judge Schaeffer earlier said he would be prepared to turn to it on the subject.

It was expected both Shelley and administration spokesmen would appear then, the first to ask that the grand jury probe continue, the other to seek its suspension until the legislative investigation was completed, in conformity with the law.

One administration leader stated that if Judge Schaeffer went ahead with the grand jury there would be nothing left for the legislature to do under the law but to impeach him.

According to a statement of county funds as furnished by Treasurer Mandich to the county commissioners as of July 30th there was a total of $656,281.51 in the county treasury. Of this amount, $339,331.43 was in the general fund, $188,749.51 in the poor fund, $109,215.25 in the gasoline fund, $18,350.82 road and school and $694.50 in the miscellaneous fund.

In addition to the cash at the windows by individual taxpayers, hundreds of letters containing checks were received during the last few days. On one day there were over 300 such letters. Despite the number the letters were all opened each day as received, and everything balanced before the office closed for the day. Mr. Mandich says he could not have accomplished this without the very efficient help in his office. The county commissioners are now given a daily report on the finances of the county.

what may prove the biggest scandal New York has seen since the day of the "Boss" Tweed probe was staged in supreme court today when District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey, colorful and dramatic racket smasher, named two city magistrates and his predecessor in office as three of the powerful influences whom Tammany leader James J. Hines, allegedly sought to manipulate.

Magistrate Hiram Caphshaw, former Magistrate Francis Egan and former District Attorney William C. Dodge "are directly involved" in the affairs of Hines, Dewey charged.

And while Dewey was filing the names of the officials allegedly involved in Hines' alleged participation in the "Dutch" Schultz policy racket, J. Richard "Dick" Davis, once the local multiplicity of Schultz, was meekly pleading guilty to policy indictments and accepting the protective custody of the district attorney to testify against Hines.

FORMER LOCAL GIRL WEDS AT CLEVELAND, O.

Of interest to many here is the wedding of Miss Judy Hagerty of Warren, O., daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Arch C. Hagerty, formerly of New Castle, who became the bride of Leo P. Downey, son of Paul Downey of Cleveland, O., at a beautiful wedding ceremony, which took place Saturday morning in St. Agnes church of Cleveland, O.

Before a throng of friends and relatives of the young couple, the Rev. Fr. O'Neill officiated at 10 o'clock, with the Rev. Fr. Kelly assisting. The church altar was beautifully decorated with a multitude of flowers, palms and ferns, providing an exquisite setting for the exchange of vows.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, C. R. Breuner of Huron avenue, New Castle, was lovely in her wedding gown of white satin, made entirely and patterned along Princess lines. Her veil of tulle, with long train, was cap sleeve and caught at either side with clusters of orange blossoms. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace, a gift of the groom. She carried an arm cluster of gardenias, forget-me-nots, baby's breath and valley lilies.

Miss Virginia Thulin of Warren, O., a close friend of the bride, was her maid of honor. She wore a peach chiffon creation, made in length with deep plum blue accessories. Her flowers were pink tea roses and blue delphinium.

As bridesmaid, Miss Elizabeth Reidy of Cleveland, O., wore just the opposite attire of that chosen by the maid of honor, her gown being of deep plum blue chiffon, with peach accessories. She carried an arm bouquet of tea roses.

Little Mae Downey, cousin of the groom, was flower girl and she wore a peach tulle frock, trimmed with rows of narrow blue velvet, and carried a colonial bouquet.

Thomas Downey, brother of the groom, was best man.

While appropriate music was furnished by the organist, Roy McKelvey of Cleveland, O., were just the opposite attire of that chosen by the maid of honor, her gown being of deep plum blue chiffon, with peach accessories.

A wedding breakfast followed the ceremony at the Lake Shore club, with places marking for 32 guests. The same keynote of peach and blue combined with the bridal white theme, predominated in the appointments throughout. The traditional tiered wedding cake with miniature figures and wedding bells, centered the bride's table.

Mr. and Mrs. Downey departed later in the day on a Canadian honeymoon. For traveling the bride selected a smart, fast black and white ensemble. They will make their home in Cleveland, O., upon returning.

Reception Monday Night Honors Musician And Wife

Friends numbering about 100 gathered at the home of Attorney and Mrs. J. Norman Martin on Monday evening for a reception in honor of Thomas H. Webber, Jr., organist and director of music for the First Presbyterian church, and his charming young wife.

The coming departure of the Webbers for Memphis, Tenn., where Mr. Webber will become organist for the Idlewild Presbyterian church, is viewed with regret by the local First Presbyterians and by all of New Castle's music lovers. They are consoled, however, by the knowledge that the young musician's talents will give pleasure in Memphis to a much larger field, for the Idlewild church, with a seating capacity of over 1,500, is one of the largest and most beautiful in all the Southland.

The demands of Mr. Webber, Jr., such as that of last evening at the Martin home which make parting "so sweet sorrow," and both Mr. and Mrs. Webber expressed their sincere appreciation for the warm friendship which has been shown them.

They received the guests on the porch early in the evening, then at the entrance of the drawing room. Throughout the hours friends came and went, and tea and coffee and dessert were served in the dining room. The ladies who took care of the pouring were Mrs. James M. Smith and Mrs. E. E. Seavey, during the first of the evening, Mrs. Samuel W. Perry and Mrs. Robert McKim White, later.

Mrs. Martin was also assisted in serving by Mrs. James A. Rugh, Mrs. William J. Caldwell, Miss Eleanor E. Anderson, Mrs. Norman A. Martin, Mrs. Harold C. Rock, Mrs. Arthur B. Foster, Mrs. George A. The event attracted friends, neighbors, relatives and acquaintances numbering approximately one hundred and fifty, during the "open house" informal reception which was held from two to five o'clock in the afternoon and seven to nine in the evening. The house was decorated throughout with many lovely bouquets of yellow flowers and all appointments were carried out in gold.

According to the guest register, among the throng who called to offer congratulations were guests from Butler, Grove City, West Middlesex and Jackson Center.

Mystery In Disappearance Of Young Professor At Sea

Returning From Vacation Trip

Believe Prof. Robt. M. Duncan, 35, Of Colgate, Committed Suicide

ATTACKS WIFE AND THEN DISAPPEARS

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—(The Associated Press.)—A young college professor and his wife in celebration of their 10th wedding anniversary, were believed to have committed suicide by leaping from the liner Normandie 500 miles at sea, after the professor had attacked his wife in a fit of jealousy.

Robert Moore Duncan, 35, assistant professor of politics at Colgate university, who formerly was associated with Texas Christian university, minus some teeth and suffering from marks inflicted by the professor as he grabbed her throat and battered her head against a railing was Duncan's 36-year-old wife Alice, a mother of two children.

Must Have Gone Crazy.
In a state of collapse, Mrs. Duncan was at the Montclair, N. J., home of her father, the Rev. William S. Richardson. Her sister, Mrs. Lewis Ray, speaking for the family, observed:

"Robert must have gone crazy. He tried to throw Alice overboard, and we can't find any reason for it. He wasn't drunk. Something must have happened to his mind."

AROUND CITY HALL

Finance Director J. Leon Fink has been acting as mayor during the vacation of Mayor Charles E. McGrath. In the conduct of police court and councilmanic meetings, he has been brief and to the point and apparently is well versed in the duties of the office. Before embarking on a city director's career, Fink was an accountant and it is in the finance department that his previous experience proves very useful.

It is difficult to clean downtown streets at night properly because of parked cars, officials of the department said today. Between midnight and 5 a. m. last Tuesday 136 cars were parked in the downtown area North Mercer street, Falls street, East Washington street and South Mercer street contained the most cars, it was reported.

During council meeting Monday at the city building colleagues gave Streets Director W. H. Dunlap authority to buy from the Chevrolet-Keystone company a 1936 used pickup truck at a cost of $325.

City Assessor A. C. Shoaf today recommended to council that the assessment on the Martha Shaffer property, Lawrence street, be excused because it is used for religious purposes.

Detectives bureau was created, police radio system installed and cruiser car system of police work here instituted during the period John F. Haven was chief of police. Since he returned to contract work, the same systems have been kept in operation. The radio is used extensively, locally, and every prisoner regarded as suspicious is fingerprinted and photographed. The cruiser car system is used steadily from 4 p. m. each day until 8 a. m. the next day.

Chief of Police Ralph A. Griswell issues very few permits to persons to carry revolvers and never does excepting to persons engaged in the guarding of payrolls. Before permits are issued the persons desiring such must provide proof they are responsible following which they are fingerprinted. A record of the serial number of the revolver is also kept with other information at detective headquarters.

Years ago a case containing all sorts of curious death dealing weapons was kept at police headquarters. Whenever a person would be caught carrying a revolver, knife, shotgun, lead pipe wrapped in paper, razor or pair of brass knuckles, the weapon was confiscated. Some years ago the case contained a large number of the instruments. However, a division of the instruments was made to the officers who made the arrests. Now and then a revolver is found on a person arrested. Usually he is charged with violation of the Uniform Fire-arms act. The revolvers are smashed. Police are not permitted to dispose of revolvers. At present there are several pairs of brass knuckles at headquarters.

Writing of death dealing instruments one of the most deadly "knockout" weapons is a lead pipe. Usually these intent on knocking insensible someone wrap the pipe in newspaper and deal the blow when a victim walks through a darkened passage-way. Several years ago a man was caught with such a weapon and the then mayor, Charles E. Mayne, imposed a heavy fine.

Short Talks On Advertising

Prepared by the Bureau of Research and Education, Advertising Federation of America

WHAT IS BUSINESS?

NUMBER 6.

Exactly what do we mean by the term "business"? Try to explain fully and completely just what business is, and you will discover that you are explaining the outstanding facts of American life. In explaining business, you go a long way toward explaining what made this country the best place in the world to live in.

We in the United States are only seven per cent of the world's people. We own half of all the wealth in the world. We have 71 per cent of the world's automobiles, 52 per cent of its telephones and 40 per cent of its radios. How did all this come about?

Why is the standard of living in America higher than anywhere else? Why are we so well off that we consume one-fourth of all the sugar produced in the world, one-fourth of the coffee, and three-fourths of the silk? Why do we use one-half of the world's production of coal, and one-half of all the electric power? All for a mere 7 per cent of the world's population!

If you provide a complete answer to all these questions, you will also have given a good answer to the question "what is business?" for it is through the workings of business that America has won economic leadership. Without our highly developed business mechanisms, 45,000,000 willing workers could never have produced our unparalleled standard of living, nor even if all America's riches were beneath our feet.

soil and if all our farm land were the most fertile in the world.

Collectively, business is merely the production and exchange of commodities. Individually, businesses in this country are a million separate enterprises, producing, selling, and transporting things, and managing the flow of trade. Business men are the people who make a living by conducting these million separate enterprises and who take the risks of owning them. From the corner grocery to the big steel company, each independent unit in our business system is working hard for that success which can be gained only by serving and satisfying its customers.

Business is good when these one million separate businesses are busy making and exchanging their products. They do this when costs and prices are in proper balance, and when the existing purchasing power is actively being used by consumers and by industries in buying from one another.

Businesses stimulate buying activity by offering better merchandise and more attractive values, and by advertising them widely. This is the way all new industries have been built. It is the way business operates normally in building prosperity. Whatever else may have helped the American spirit of business enterprise has been the manspining of our progress, aided at every point by the use of good advertising, distributing the products of industry, produced our unparalleled standard of living, nor even if all America's riches were beneath our feet.

business to be satisfied with past performances. The imagination is challenged by goals of the future. Copyright 1938, Advertising Federation of America.

Lack Of Funds Provides Real Headache For Man

Inability To Pay Toll Bridge Fee Results In Jail-Breaker Being Caught

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 2.—For lack of 20 cents Patrick Luby found himself with a good-sized headache. He was arrested when he arrived at the toll booth on the Delaware river bridge without the necessary 20-cent fee. Then he gave a false name and address before admitting his true identity.

Next, Luby couldn't produce an owner's card for the automobile he was driving and police said it was stolen from a man in West Chester.

Finally, Luby admitted he escaped from jail just a few days previously in Ellicott City, Md.

"What were you in jail for?" a detective asked.

"Bribery," replied Luby.

If you feel your favorite white blouse too blue after washing it, and a thorough additional wash of hot water and soap suds doesn't help, soak it in a mixture of three quarts of hot water and three tablespoons of vinegar, says Phyllis Kennedy of the screen.

Tourney General Chairman Franklin Crisell Will Have Charge Of 8 O'Clock Meeting

FINAL NIGHT TO ENTER TOURNAMENT

Just how many teams will try for the Lawrence County softball championship will be determined at the Y. M. C. A. tonight at 8 o'clock when Tourney General Chairman Franklin R. Crisell will call the roll of the various teams to enter.

There are seven teams at the present time that wish to enter the tourney. It is hoped that by midnight at least three more teams can be secured. The winner of the tourney gets a trip to Pittsburgh for the western regional playoffs.

Managers Must Attend

It is imperative that all managers of the city softball league be present tonight whether or not they intend to try for the championship tourney. There is considerable business to be taken up. It is rumored that Mr. Crisell will end the city softball league second half tonight and start the series between the Reds and Nats. The Reds are almost impossible to beat at this stage of the season. They have won 12 straight in the second half.

The tourney drawings for first prizes will take place tonight just as soon as it is determined what teams will enter.

Plan Softball Banquet

Mr. Crisell has announced that the team in the league that have franchises in the league can use part of their franchise money to enter the tourney. The entry fee is very small it was stated.

Plans for the big softball league banquet to be held at the Cathedral latter in the month will also be discussed by the managers and President Crisell tonight. This will be one of the finest banquets of its kind ever held here.

Pirates Play Boston Today

Pittsburgh Hopes To Fatten Lead As Giants And Cubs Argue At Polo Grounds

INDIANS LOSE MORE GROUND

NEW YORK, Aug. 2. Once more the National League pennant battle has shifted to the Polo grounds where the third place Chicago Cubs will hold forth today to be followed by the league leading Pittsburgh Pirates in the next series as the defending Giants try to do something about a situation which is rapidly getting out of hand. In fact, it seems to be completely out of the park as things stand now.

The Pirates remain five games out of first place and 21 ahead of the Cubs after an open date in the circuit yesterday, and have slipped so badly in recent weeks that they are betting odds of today show them ranked at 5 to 2 against the Cubs, and the Pirates out in front as odds on 7 to 10 chances.

Thus the National League race continues as brisk as it has been through all the years.

The American League too is going along at what some choose to call a dog-dog pace, with the Yankees now 2 1/2 games ahead of the Cleveland Indians. The latter took occasion yesterday to drop themselves by a half-game margin in the standings in absorbing an 11 to 8 beating from the Washington Senators while the local leaders were idle.

Feature of the Cleveland-Washington contest, which went 10 innings, was Bob Feller's failure to last and an ultimate parade of pitchers for both sides followed.

In the days only other contest, the Philadelphia Athletics broke the Detroit Tigers' eight-game winning streak when Ross and Smith collaborated to put a 4 to 0 shutout on the last few days finally stopped and he went home run-less but still remained far ahead of Babe Ruth's pace for a similar period in the latter's all-time record year, when he hit over 60 circuit smashes.

DECAPRIO MIDGETS WIN

The Decaprio Midgets won from the Back and Packer team in a rubber league game 9 to 6. So far this year the Decaprio have won 15 and lost 8 games. Al Lamorelin won his 15th straight victory of the year yesterday.

Baby Face Wins From Moscati

Mickie Rubin Cuts Out "Didoes," Wins By Knockout In Second

EMIL CANNELL WINS IN FIRST

LAST NIGHT'S RESULTS

Emil Cannell, city, knocked out Fred Sandy, Meadville, first round.

Phil Flowers, Pittsburgh, defeated Mike Koprinnack, Leesburg, three rounds.

Chuck Arnett, city, knocked out Fred Bauer, Youngstown, second round.

Mickie Rubin, city, won technical knockout over George Suikinen, Youngstown, second round.

Slev Kowalik, Pittsburgh, defeated Louis Danke, Youngstown, three rounds.

Al Naples, Meadville, defeated Benny Bartle, Ellwood City, three rounds.

Andy Wertz, Youngstown, knocked out Muddy Kuriz, McKees Rocks, three rounds.

Baby Face Costa defeated Berne Moscati, Pittsburgh, three rounds.

Because his punches were short and he could not solve Baby Face Costa's souped-up style, Berne Moscati of Pittsburgh, lost a 118-pound three round bout last night in the Grove Street playground. Moscati tried hard but the boy who lasted until the semi-finals in the Golden Glove tournament at Boston, captured the decision. It was a fight in which the fans were kept on their toes until the last bell sounded. It was one of eight bouts staged by the Jefferson A. C. The crowd was not as large as the preceding Monday because of threatening weather.

Mickie Rubin of this city cut out his "didoes" last night and went in to fight and what a fight! It was punch all the way. The local light-heavyweights were over George Suikinen of Youngstown by a knockout in the second round. He had Rubin down in the first. Rubin got up without a count. He put Suikinen down twice in the second round. On the second trip to the canvas Suikinen had a toll of 10 rounds over him. The fans liked Rubin's business-like manner of execution.

Deal Miner Loses

Emil Cannell of the Seaway ward, city, got his practice baptism and he made the most of it by knocking out Fred Sandy of Meadville in the initial round. Emil lost no time swinging and he came through in splendid style. The coal miner, Mike Koprinnack, Leesburg, fought a rugged, slug-fest fight but he was not quite as good as Phil Flowers of McKees Rocks and Flowers today won Mike's scalp. Chuck Arnett, city, knocked Fred Bauer of Youngstown in the second round. The bell saved Bauer in the first round.

The Steve Kowalik, Pittsburgh, Louis Danke, Youngstown, bout was a humdrum from bell to bell. Danke was down twice in the first but did not take a count, and now and then slipped down in the second round. Kowalik proved a better fighter and got the decision which he deserved. The Perkanian which went in at Al Naples of Meadville, who defeated Benny Bartle of Ellwood City in three rounds. Benny got the card case. Benny had Naples down for nine in the first but Naples came on to win by slugging viciously in the last two rounds.

Muddy Kuriz of McKeesport was down on his back and eye-working in his bout with Andy Wertz of Youngstown, but Wertz won by a knockout in the third round. In the third Kuriz knocked Wertz through the ropes. Wertz did not stay put and came back to punch Kuriz who went down without being hit. He took a count of 10 from Ref. Tom McMahon in the third round.

Good Refereeing

The Baby Face Costa-Berne Moscati final bout of three rounds was fast. Berne was off when it came to accurate pinching. His punches fell short and Baby Face's left-handed style baffled Berne sufficiently to enable the Meadville 118-pounder to romp away with the award. However, it was a fight in which there was no stalling. They tossed punches every second and Kowalik wanted to win but last night he was doomed to disappointment.

The crowd last night was kept low because of threatening weather. However, when the fans who did visit the Jefferson A. C.'s show they witnessed scraps in every one of the bouts and left the arena feeling satisfied they had witnessed an Evening's Event that was replete with punches, knockdowns and knockouts. Tom McMahon refereed and did a good job.

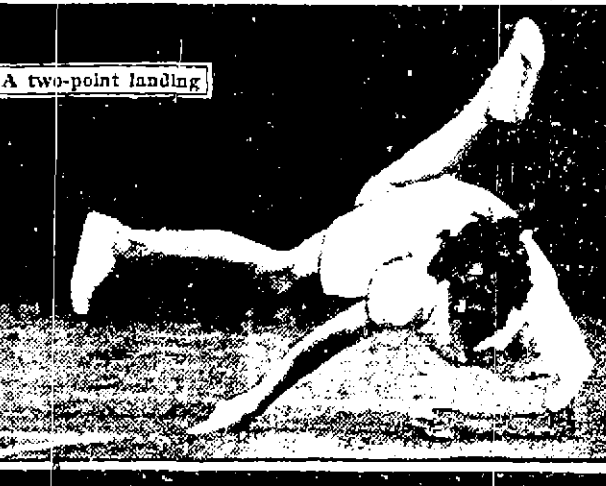

Merchants Will Play Three Games

The New Castle Merchants will play three tough games this week. Friday night is the big booster benefit game with the Old Timers at Lehigh field.

Saturday the Liberty Grilles of Sharon will play here in a Penn-Ole league game, and Sunday the Grove City Merchants will be here for a league tilt, according to Manager Hank Stanley.

Quite a big program is being outlined for Old Timers Day at the Lehigh on Friday. Several of the old timers like Bob Whaley will get special awards at the game.

Eunice is pictured in the thrills of action during her recent match with Dorothy Bundy at Sea Bright, N. J. They're little studies in equilibrium, aren't they?

Bass Come Big in Carolinas

The heavens wept that murky, late spring night. And those of us gathered to welcome in the black bass season took the drenching of our lives.

"Oh, why was I ever a fisherman?" we mused, as giant streaks of lightning flashed through the trees and driving sheets of rain turned the placid stream into a muddy torrent.

Early to pass the hours till dawn, but largely to forget the terrifying fireworks, we hooked on a mushy softshell and let it drift to the bottom.

First there came a gentle tug. "No bass, this," we mused. Then a curious jerk, and the hook was set.

Instantly the quarry proved he was no weakling. Snapping his head from side to side like a mad rat, he protested powerfully at the far end of the line.

"Grab the landing net," we shouted to a water-logged pal, bracing both feet on the slippery bank.

But when the prey was hauled ashore, his hide turned out a leathery brown, and nary a scale to be seen.

"Strange bass you're getting nowadays," the netter roared. Yet, while draping the slimy critter on the stringer, we observed emphatically, "A two-pound bullie is just a whale of a lot better'n your foam and drizzled stink."

Since then we have spent many perilous nights with the oily rascals, catching them on liver, pork, chunks of fish, soft-shells, and all insects. When the moon is hid, and the bait lies quiet on the soft mud flats—surprising things will happen! And many an angler has arrived with the break of day to blink his eyes at the bulle's best clunk in our breakfast frying pan!

Drills, exhibitions and races will feature a U. S. Coast Guard water fete to be held at Grand Haven, Mich., August 3-4, to commemorate the 148th anniversary of the founding of the service. Admiral R. R. Waesche will attend the fete. Photos above show three views of a capsized boat, a power life boat with coast guardsmen in oil skins, boots and "bonnets" ready for duty on their way into Lake Michigan to answer a hurry call and a Lyle gun and line carriage in preparation to send the breeches buoy to a stranded ship for the rescue of persons aboard.

Tennessee Guardsmen in the Limelight

Pictured assembled in the railroad yards at Jackson, Tenn., is a unit of the Tennessee National Guard, which was to have attended army maneuvers in Mississippi, but which is reported to have received orders to proceed to Memphis, presumably to supervise the polling in Thursday's primary elections. Gov. Gordon Browning, seeking re-election, denied he planned any such duty for the guardsmen.

Bike Riders Too Must Abide By Traffic Rules

CHICAGO, Ill.—A bicycle rider is nothing more nor less than a pedestrian on wheels.

So Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor Club, declared today.

But since this unbalanced pedestrian has entered the domain of the motorist he must abide by the motorist's rules, Hayes was careful to add. He said:

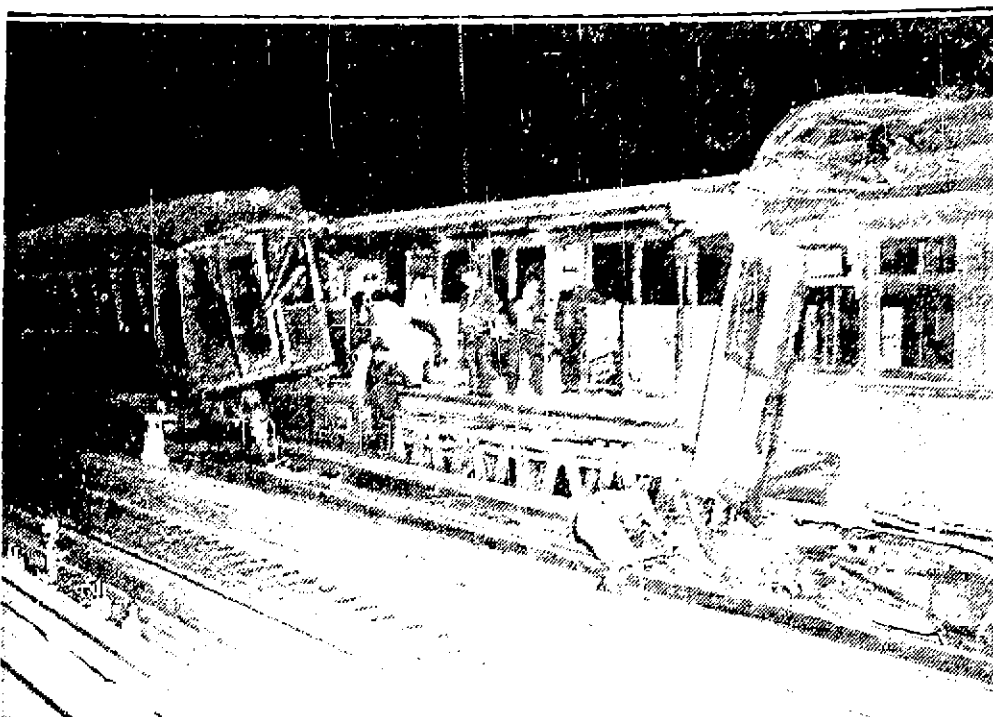

"While he has the frailty of the pedestrian, the cyclist is required to conduct himself just as a motorist because he is traveling on wheels in the street."

Great Care Necessary
Otherwise this quasi-motorist must compensate for his lack of size by handling himself with the same care as a pedestrian Hayes noted. He pointed out:

"Bicycle riders are required to keep to the right to obey traffic lights, and to have lights on both front and rear which are visible five hundred feet for night driving."

Automobile drivers, defenseless against the reckless figure-eight and zig-zag of an increasing horde of two-wheeled travelers, hoped stricter observance of the rules would take a few of them out of their hair.

Fifteen Injured in New York "L" Crash

Rounding a curve 100 feet above street level, an empty elevated train derailed into the rear of a halted train at 110th Street today, where a head-on crash in the highest in New York. Fifteen persons were injured, many seriously. Five followed the crash, showing the two trains, after they had been pulled apart.

Ford Cannot Attend Picnic Of Old Timers

Obliged To Decline Invitation Because Of Other Arrangements

PLANS FOR EVENT GOING FORWARD

Because of the fact that he has other arrangements already made, Henry Ford has been unable to attend the invitation to attend the Old Timers Picnic here on Wednesday, August 17, according to a letter received by Fred L. Renz, president of the News Company, in answer to the letter sent by Mr. Ford inviting the automobile magnate to come here for the occasion.

Plans for the picnic are going forward and indications point to one of the finest affairs in recent years.

The letter received by Mr. Renz follows:

HENRY FORD
Dearborn, Mich.
July 25, 1938.

Mr. Fred L. Renz,
President, The News Company,
New Castle, Pa.
Dear Sir:

On behalf of Mr. Ford, we wish to thank you for inviting him to the Old Timers Picnic on Wednesday, August 17, at Cascade Park.

He appreciates your kindness but regrets that present plans call for his being in northern Michigan at the time mentioned.

Very truly yours,
FRANK CAMPSALL.

DAILY DOZEN

From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania

Henry, up, folks, and eat your lunch. It's going to storm!

What a picnic! I stood on by the window one, everyone rushes to the picnic tables and eat.

The nearer the storm clouds, the faster the eating.

The day is excessively hot.

The children and some of the adults, have been playing at strenuous games.

Comes now the sticky, sultry hour before the storm, with the flies especially annoying.

Everyone's nervous system is strained.

But they come themselves on the picnic lunch to get ahead of the threatened storm.

And what indigestion and distress that night!

Hurried eating on a hot day is bad.

Hurried eating with added anxiety about a storm is worse.

"Death Ray" Of Great Power Is Invented

Claim Ray So Powerful It Will Cut Quarter Inch Steel Plate At 300 Yards

(International News Service)
SOMERVILLE, Mass., Aug. 2.—Invention of a powerful "death ray," so potent it can cut quarter-inch steel plate at 300 yards and wither human or animal bodies, was claimed today by Major Arthur W. Marchant, construction engineer.

The ray, which Major Marchant said was invisible and odorless, and more mysterious and harder to analyze, will be given the United States government for sole military rights.

Already the government has conducted a series of secret tests at government station, and so impressed has it been that Major Marchant and five co-inventors have been supplied with unlimited materials for experiments. Said Major Marchant:

"I was trying to devise a way to cut metal with electricity instead of using an acetylene torch when I stumbled on the death ray. Assistants and I suffered third degree burns before we found we were playing with a new and deadly agency embodying great power and possibilities.

"We shoot it from what we call a 'gun,' a 110-volt generator, at 60 cycles. The whole contraption can be moved on a truck. In our experiments we found we were cutting steel on the bench with a force we could not see. There were no sparks or flame such as we expected.

"Eventually we trained the ray at a steel plate which it cut as a razor would cut paper at 300 yards.

"Experiments with animals showed it could sever the limbs and heal them at the point of amputation, allowing no blood flow."

Lucille Ball, young film actress, advises eating wax candles with a very thin covering of shellac when the weather is warm, to keep them from softening. This makes them stand erect, but does not interfere with their burning evenly.

McFate Is Named Chairman Of '39 Rotary Sessions

Will Head Convention Committees; Club Here Talks Business

J. LEE MCFATE

Appointment of J. Lee McFate, prominent member of the New Castle Rotary club, as general chairman for the 1939 conference of District 175 of Rotary International, which meets in New Castle next spring, was announced to local Rotarians yesterday by Dr. C. C. Green, president of the club.

District Governor Glennis H. Rickert of Kane, Pa., made the suggestion last week and notified Mr. Green over the week-end. Once before Mr. McFate served as general chairman of a district meet here.

Business occupied the Rotarians at their weekly meeting in The Caspation on Monday. Routine committee reports were heard.

District Governor Coming. President Green announced that District Governor Rickert, who is superintendent of Kane's public schools, expect to pay an official visit to the New Castle club Monday, August 15.

Plans are under way, Harold R. McCulloch, chairman of the rural-urban committee, reported, for a September farm tour for members of Rotary. McCulloch's committee hopes to arrange stops at some of the county's leading farms and for an evening dinner program at which some prominent speaker will appear.

James L. Evans was inducted into the club's membership by William K. Huges in behalf of the club's Rotary education committee. Mr. Evans was formerly a member of the club.

During the business session all committee groups sat together and Dr. Green and his board of directors sat at the head table.

Extols Rotarians' Deeds.

Taking opportunity to let his fellow members know why they should be proud of their club, Fred L. Renz, speaking as the chairman of the club's civic affairs committee, recalled time and time again the occasions when New Castle Rotarians have performed distinguished community service in one way or another. He told of how many members have identified themselves with civic movements, and of their leadership roles in those movements.

"These men," Mr. Renz concluded after summarizing the notable civic contributions of several Rotarians, "gave of their money and of their service and of their brains—you should be real proud of your Rotary club."

Ross M. Rosenberger, chairman of community affairs, in an impressive report, recalled again the ways in which the local Rotary club can further promote this community.

Guests at the luncheon were John Kraft, formerly of this city and now affiliated with the executive department of Secony-Vacuum Oil corporation in New York, and Walter L. Hess of Slippery Rock.

ROBOT CUTS DOWN TIME FOR OHIO'S ELECTROCUTIONS

(International News Service)
COLUMBUS, O.—A new automatic current control cuts down the time necessary to electrocute condemned prisoners at Ohio penitentiary.

Formerly the voltage had to be controlled manually. Now, after three seconds pull three switches, the current remains on for one minute, giving enough juice to burn out life in that time.

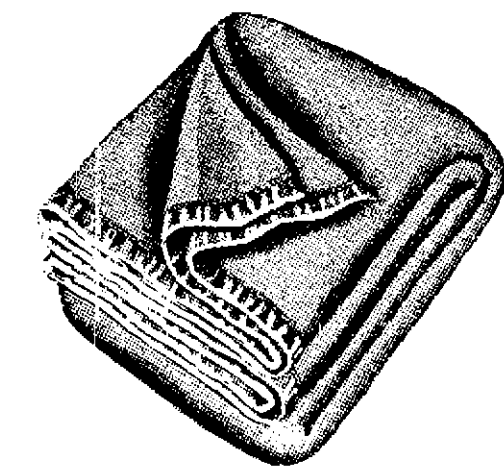

The voltage is held at 1,950 for 10 seconds, then lowered to 500 for 40 seconds then stepped back to 1,950 for the last 10 seconds. It automatically turns off at the end of 60 seconds.

Fifty state parks, monuments and other recreational areas open to the public are shown on the new tourist map issued for free distribution by the Pennsylvania Publicity Commission.

NOT AGAINST RULES TO FEED MONKEYS

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA.—"Please do not feed us" signs no longer hang on the cages of most of the animals and birds at the Philadelphia Zoo. Discarding a sixty year rule, authorities now permit the public to feed the monkeys, bears and elephants with a special food which sells at five cents a bag.

Bamboo, the giant gorilla, along with a few delicate birds, however, can't be given any handouts.
